

Nick Jarvis
Multimedia Specialist

Nick Jarvis is an experienced Multimedia Specialist for the National White Collar Crime Center (NW3C). Nick is responsible for developing and delivering NW3C's online training courses and resources, as well as working with the marketing team to develop all NW3C products for print and web design. Nick has worked on a variety of individual projects for NW3C and was highly involved in NW3C's work on both the Cyber S.W.A.T. and TraffickSTOP programs. Nick assists in the production of training for law enforcement both online and in-person by creating and providing visual assets, including videos, photos, and graphics. Nick also manages content for the Cyber S.W.A.T. and Law Enforcement Cyber Center websites. Nick has worked closely with law enforcement to design visually appealing content for outreach and information purposes. More recently, Nick has designed immersive training, which allow participants to enter a virtual interactive crime scene to learn practical skills and investigative techniques.

Prior to NW3C, Nick earned a Bachelor of Arts from West Virginia University. He was employed as a graphic designer with Adventure West Virginia, a program with West Virginia University, where he filmed and photographed rock climbing, white water rafting, backpacking adventures, and more.
